

Scope It Out

Minnesota-based optics company Styrka has been gaining popularity with its outstanding selection of quality spotting scopes, binoculars, red-dot sights and riflescopes, and the exceptional Styrka Pride Lifetime Warranty program. The value-packed S3 series riflescope models build on that reputation as a budget-minded option in addition to the S5 and S7 series scopes.

S3 scopes are laden with features that keep them right at the top of the budget class. SXL fully multi-coated optics are housed inside a 1-inch 6061-T6 aircraft-grade aluminum tube for an extremely strong, lightweight package weighing between 15.1 and 21.1 ounces, that is capable of the premium sharpness, contrast, color and brightness serious deer hunters are looking for.

Its sealed aluminum housing is 100 percent waterproof and nitrogen purged to prevent fogging and moisture damage in all weather conditions — from the tree-snapping cold of the Far North to the enveloping heat and humidity of the Deep South and all of the rainstorms in-between.

Three models are available with a BDC reticle option, and Styrka's own ballistic calculator is available for iOS, Android and desktop platforms. All S3 scopes feature 1/4-inch MOA clicks for pinpoint windage and elevation adjustments, and a fast-focus eyepiece providing custom adjustment to each shooter's eye.

The series includes a 4x32mm Rimfire model, 2-7x32mm Muzzleloader/Shotgun model, as well as 2-7x32mm and 3-9x40mm riflescopes. For shooters who want more magnification, there's a 4-12x50mm scope with side parallax adjustment. Each S3 package also includes a neoprene cover, Spudz lens cleaning cloth and scope instruction manual.

Styrka's commitment to excellent quality and customer service is clear, and the S3 series is further proof of that commitment.

— Chris Berens